LEE AND LINCOLN.

Being at Point Lookout, Maryland, during the week, examining the new railroad from Washington City to that point, its projector, S. Taylor Suit, once the Ariel of the gold room in New York, later a Maryland planter, told this reminiscence:

"There lived near me in Prince George's county, at upper Marlborough, a cousin and favorite of Gen. Robert E. Lee, named John F. Lee. He was judge advocate of the United States army, and when the war broke out was absurd enough to resign this comfortable place and his rank of major to go over to the Confederacy. My intimate relations with him led me to know Col. R. E. Lee slightly. At the close of the war, about April 12th, 1865, I made a visit to Richmond, Va., with the United States Marshal at Washington, Ward H. Lamon. On Saturday night I went to his room at the Spotswood hotel, and found him lying on his bed weeping. I inquired the cause, but he sobbed that he could not tell me then. Being mystified and excited, I pressed to know his grievance, and he finally said: 'I am going off in the morning to Washington; before I go I will tell you.' He informed me at Rocketts, as the steamer was about to depart that President Lincoln has been murdered. I came ashore again, and, filled with the weight of such information, which was known to but few in Richmond, I thought it would justify me in calling on Gen Lee, who arrived a day or two before and was at his dwelling. There I was told that Gen. Lee was about to attend religious service, but would be at home about 12:30 o'clock. I called again and he received me cordially, and inquired particularly for various friends, places, and interests about Washington, Baltimore, and Maryland. I finally said to him:

'I have a piece of private information which I came here to give you, sir. The President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln was assassinated night before last in Washington city.'

He turned suddenly, his face being but half turned toward me before, and looked into my eyes with an expression I shall never forget. He looked me through and through.

'General,' said I, 'there can be no doubt of it. The President's marshal, Col. Lamon, told me of it, and it has been fully confirmed in cipher messages to the military authorities. What do you think about it, Gen. Lee?'

He raised his head and chin, assumed a positive expression and exclaimed:

'The South has lost her best friend!'"—Johnny Boquet in N. Y. Tribune.

A Fool of a King.

It is said that the present eccentric king of Bavaria caused to be erected, at an immense cost, on the roof of the royal palace of his capital, a magnificent garden inclosed with glass. It is filled with rare tropical plants and flowers, and contains even a tiny lake. Here, at night, the scene lit up with a soft, subdued brilliancy, the king will float in a miniature gondola, and listen to the voices of the court singers, hidden among the foliage to complete the illusion in which he loves to dream away his life.—Once he conceived the plan of having one of Moliere's comedies represented before him by the young ladies of a convent pension. Several weeks were spent in rehearsals, and costly arrangements were made to present the piece in a manner worthy of the royal command; but, on the very evening of the intended performance, it occurred to the king that he might be the cynosure of curious young eyes, and at the last moment the play was countermanded. Many years ago he was induced to review the garrison of Munich, massed on the great plain outside the city, upon which looks down the colossal bronze statue of Bavaria. Splendidly mounted, he rode hurriedly past the front; and then, as if shrinking from the gaze of his soldiers, he put spurs to his horse, and, attended only by his aid-de-camp, galloped away, leaving his troops to defile before his minister of war and the generals of his staff.

A youth was heard to remark to a jolly and fat Teutonian, as the circus pageant passed the City Hall this morning: "Haven't I seen you before? Your face looks familiar." "Is dot so?" said Hans. "When you get so old as me your face will look familiar, too."

The Steubenville Herald thinks that "Whenever you see a woman talking straight to a man and beginning to nod her head and keep time with her upraised index finger, it is time for somebody to climb a tree."

In most quarrels there is a fault on both sides. A quarrel may be compared to a spark, which cannot be produced without a flint as well as steel.

CIGARETTES.

Of the mischievous effects of this article in this country the Philadelphia Times says:

There are few current delusions that have become so firmly fixed as the trade trick which claims that the only original cigarrette, warranted not kill or ruin the layrnx, is the one wrapped in rice paper. During the last ten years cigarrette smoking has grown apace with this country. At the beginning of the war the cigarrette was the mark of a foreigner, the Spaniard particularly. All the Continental nations, however, do most of their smoking in this way. The ready-made cigarrette is only a comparatively late invention. It was created in defference to the impatient spririt of the American, who cannot give the time or possibly acquire the skill necessary to roll the cigarrette. The address with which this job is done abroad elicits admiration. So great an adept was Napoleon III, in making this small solace that with one hand, the left, he could arrange the tobacco and roll the paper into condition fit to smoke. This, however, is a by no means rare occurrance in France, Spain and Italy. It was the American who invented the patent cigarrettes, not so much to save the consumer the trouble of making the article as to get a good chance to adulterate. There is not a cigarrette made in America that any man, boy or woman would smoke if the making or mixture of them could be seen. Every brand makes a boast of using rice paper, whereas anyone who takes the trouble to examine the rice plant will see at a glance that there is no fibrous consistence in it to make paper of the sort used in cigarrettes. Prodigious fortunes have been made and are making and millions of people are slowly ruining their digestive organs by inhaling the foul stuff wrapped in the various brands that claim to be of the pure. Let any smoker of cigarrettes subject his tongue and throat to a medical examination after smoking a package of the abominations. Vitriol itself leaves no more sinister impression on tongue, throat and palate. If the cigarrette were made of pure tobacco and fairly good paper it would be no more hurtful than a cigar. But the greed of the trade enters this like all other enterprises that spring up to supply a sudden demand. A package of 20 cigarettes, which may represent an outlay of from three to five cents, the manufacturer exacts 12 to 15 cents for. There is rarely in a package of twenty as much genuine tobacco as a smoker consumes in an honest pipeful. It may be safely said that, with perhaps one or two exceptions, every cigarrette is a source of violent physical reaction, destructive of vital tissues and the active principal of lurking and insidious diseases, and that it is better to smoke a pound of tobacco in any other form than the pinch mingled with poison that makes up the ridiculously expensive and utterly worthless article of cigarrette that holds the market.

EARS.—Large ears can hear things in general, and denote broad, comprehensive views and modes of thought, while small ears hear things in particular, showing a disposition to individualize, often accompanied by love of the minute. Large ears are usually satisfied with learning the facts of the case, with the general principals involved—too strict an attention to the enumeration of details, especially all repetition of the more unimportant, is wearisome to them. People with such ears like generally, and are usually well fitted to conduct large enterprises, to receive and pay out large sums; in buying or selling would prefer to leave a margin rather than reduce the quantity of any sort to the exact dimensions of the measure specified, and in giving would prefer to give with a free hand and without too strict a calculation as to the exact amount. Small ears on the contrary, desire to know the particulars of a story as well as the main facts; take delight often in examining, handling or constructing tiny specimens of workmanship; are disposed to be exact with respect to inches and ounces in buying or selling, to the extent, at least, of knowing the exact number, over or under the stated measure given or received. People with such ears would in most cases, prefer a retail to a wholesale business.—Phrenological Journal.

A sleeper is one who sleeps; a sleeper is also a place where a sleeper can sleep; and a sleeper is, too, a thing over which runs the sleeper in which the sleeper sleeps; so that the sleeper in the sleeper sleeps, while the sleeper runs on, as well as sometimes leaps off the track.

No Use.

There is no use in putting up the motto, "God bless our home," if the father is a rough old bear, and the spirit of discourtesy and rudeness is taught by the parents to the children, and by the older to the younger. There is no use in putting up a motto, "The Lord will provide," while the father is shiftless, the mother is shiftless, the boys refuse to work and the girls busy themselves over gewgaws and finery. There is no use in putting up the motto, "The greatest of these is charity," while the tongue of the backbiter wags in that family, and silly gossip is dispensed at the tea-table. There is no use in placing up conspicuously the motto, "The liberal man deviseth liberal things," while the money chinks in the pockets of "the head of the household" groaning to get out to see the light of day, and there are dollars and dimes for wines and tobacco and other luxuries, but positively not one cent for the church. In many homes are these mottoes standing sarcasms, which serve only to point a jest and adorn a satire. The beauty of quiet lives, of truthful, hopeful, free-hearted, charitable lives, is one of surpassing loveliness, and those lives shed their own incomparable fragrance, and the world knows where to find them.—The Presbyterian.

THE WRONG FOOT.—One of the legacies left us by the centennial exhibition is the colossal granite statue of a soldier now standing in front of memorial hall. It is believed to have been placed there by a granite company in order to exhibit the quality of the stone contained in the quarry. But it has always been a matter of amazement why it was not removed at the close of the celebration or a formal gift of it made to the city. Perhaps we can enlighten the public on this point. Although the granite is a splendin specimen of stone the figure has a serious defect. It represents a soldier at parade rest. Yet the artist has put the right foot forward instead of the left! This destroys the value of the statue as a work of art, and it has therefore been abandoned by the owners. Only a soldier, however will notice the defect, and it is a source of regret that it is so marred.—Philadelphia Press.

THE CALIFORNIAN,—The June number of this favorite magazine maintains the well-earned high reputation accorded the work; the matter being of the choicest. Its contents are: Mr. Wallace's "Island Life," Old Colleges and Young, Toby, Divided, George Eliot's Later Works, '49 and '50, Twelve days on a Mexican Highway, The Royal Wine, Good-for-Naught, The Literature of Utopia, The Dream-plant of India, Venus Votrix, Defrauded, The Earl of Beaconfield and his Works, Wiring a Continent, Eleanore, Mr Hiram McManus, Note Book, Art and Artists, Drama and Music, Outcroppings. Published by the California Publishing Company, San Francisco, $4 per year.

A prisoner confined in the Sacramento City Jail confessed before the Superior Court on Tuesday, that he attempted suicide, believing that was the only mode to escape being devoured by the hordes of "Jerusalem crickets" that infest that institution, as he was not allowed to wash himself but three times in six week! Water must be more scarce at Sacramento than it was during the Winter. The Bee very truly remarks that such treatment of prisoners is a disgrace to the city. That city ought to have an Alameda Grand Jury, or one like them, to look into its affairs.

ELECTION IN SEPTEMBER.—The Supreme Court has decided that there shall be an election in San Francisco in September next. If an election must be held in that city at that time why is there not to be a general one throughout the State? As the case just decided went from San Francisco it is to be presumed the dignity of the Court would not allow it to decide the vexed question as to having a general election next September for county officers.

Senator David Davis says that Roscoe Conkling is the greatest Senator the country has had since Webster's time. Now let Roscoe return the compliment by saying that Davis is the greatest Senator we have had since Dixon H. Conkling, a great man! Great Scott!

Secretary Blaine and Sir Edward Thornton concluded on Saturday the prolonged negotiations in regard to the outrages upon American seaman at Fortune Bay on January 7, and at a later date at Ospee Bay, Cape Breton. PLAINLY STATED.

The following "Fable," published in the Detroit Free Press, plainly states the case in the Conkling matter:

"Once upon a time a terrible Wild Beast took possession of a certian neighborhood known as the District of Columbia, so called because of the great number of clams found on its borders. No two peasants described it alike. One said It had a silken curl hanging down over Its forehead, and Its voice was low and sweet, while another contended that It had a fierce visage and claws so sharp that a Collector for the Port of New York or a Foreign Minister was torn torn to flutters in about six ticks of a bull's-eye watch. The What-is-It at first contented himself with devouring small game, such as country postmasters, Custom House clerks and doorkeepers at the Capitol, but as the peasantry grew more afraid of him, he grew bolder and got up a bigger appetite. To protect themselves from his wrath the people were compelled to let him roam as he pleased and to furnish him game for his meals. Consuls, Ministers, Judges, Collectors, and other fat game were daily thrown to him to devour, and he cleaned their bones in a way to astonish all the medical colleges. The influence of the Dread Animal was finally felt in many other neighborhoods, and in time he became a big Injun up a tree. Those who went out and flattered him and patted his curly head returned with commissions in their pockets, but those who refused to bow down were sooner or later made into hash.

For a long term of years this Beast kept the country in a state of fear and terror, and he grew so bad that one day he turned up his nose at the corpse of a Judge of the Supreme Bench and demanded a live President for dinner. This was too much. The people who had suffered long and sacrificed so much were rendered desperate at the outlook, and they rallied together to make war on the Bloodthirsty Enemy. Their preparations were hardly complete when news came that the Monster, chagrined at its defeat and maddened by the opposition, had committed suicide. The forest was at once invaded and the news confirmed.—Thousands gathered around the Corpse to survey it; and when one, bolder than the rest, finally drew it from the dense shade of trees to the open sunlight, a million men poked each other in the ribs and whispered:

"Hanged if we haven't been making all this fuss over an Ass!"

JOB PRINTING.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

MORE PAPERS.—The Bodie Standard-News will resume publication on Monday evening next. Barnes, of the late Mammoth Herald, and S. F. Hoole, lately of the Standard-News, will each soon commence the publication of journals. These will supply a "long felt want" in Bodie. Four bites at a cherry; plate of ice cream—four spoons! Happy Bodie!

NEW COMPANY.—The Tower Con. Mining Company, to operate in Indian District, has filed its incorporation. Directors, W. P. Willard, Solomon Hydenfeldt, Geo. W. Sessions, Chas. E. Scott, M. Friedlander, James Godfrey and Howard Dickenson. Capital stock, $2,000,000; 200,000 shares of $10 each. Place of business, San Francisco.

PERSONAL.—Miss Rachael Parmeter, of Lodi, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. W. T. Elliott; Miss Lorlena McClellan, from San Francisco, is visiting her mother. Alfred L. Leavitt and John D. Murphy, of the Berkeley Gymnasium; and Frank Hunewill, of the State University, arrived on Wednesday, to remain during vacation.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.—On Saturday night last, at Bodie, Officer John Roberts shot to death John Myers, a noted and disreputable character of that town, one who threatened to kill Roberts on sight. Justice Phiegar discharged Roberts, holding that it was justifiable—and so say all good citizens.

DISSOLVED.—Gregory & O'Neill have dissolved copartnership, the latter continuing the business. U. S. Gregory has left for his former residence—Ione City, Amador county. Mr. Gregory has the best wishes of our citizens.

PREEMPTION.—Henry F. Band has filed in the U. S. Land Office at Bodie, his intention to make final proof of his claim to land in Township 8, N. R. 23 E.—hearing, July 16th.

FOR SAN QUENTIN.—On Monday last Job Draper, for manslaughter, was taken to State Prison, by Sheriff Showers, to serve an imprisonment of four and a half years.

ARRESTED.—On Thursday Jesse Pearson was brought from Bodie and lodged in the county jail, by Deputy Sheriff Andy Showers, having been indicted for an assault to murder John Allen.

MURDER TRIAL.—The third trial of Sam Chung will commence before Judge Briggs, of the Superior Court, Department No. 1, on Wednesday next, the 8th inst.

WOODSHED. Lumber is being placed on the ground for the building of a woodshed for the Court House. It will be fourteen by thirty feet.

ASSESSMENT.—The Belvidere has levied an assessment of 25 cents per share; delinquent June 30th; sale July 16th. See advertisement.

SCHOOL CENSUS.—The returns show that there are 72 school children in this District.

TAXES.—We can safely assure the taxpayers of Mono county that the taxes this year will not exceed 2½ per cent.

FOURTH OF JULY BALL.—A grand ball is to be given at Wedertz's Hall on Monday evening, July 4th.

MORTGAGES.—During the month of May 11 mortgages were recorded and 1 released in the County Recorder's office.

DEEDS.—During the month of May 40 deeds were recorded in the County Recorder's office—17 mining and 22 real estate.

POSTPONED.—The advertising of the delinquent list of the North Standard has been postponed until the 15th inst.

SONORA ROAD.—The Sonora Road is open to travel—considerably earlier than usual.

A. B. Stewart, Druggist, Bodie, has received a large stock of garden, flower and field seeds.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following deeds have been recorded in the County Recorder's office:

May 31.

Mary A. Ford to J. M. Abbott, lot in Lundy, $2,500.

May 25.

Geo. Wesley to Mason D. Annas, lot on Green street, Bodie, $120.

Mining Transfers.

The following deeds have been recorded in the County Recorder's office:

June 2.

E. B. Burdick to R. M. Briggs and L. E. Stratton, one-quarter of Chief of Tioga mine, Tioga District, $500.

OUR GALLERY.—Regardless of cost we have secured the services of a graduate of the Academy of Designs of Paris, whose artistic skill will be devoted to embellishing the columns of the CHRONICLE-UNION with portraits of prominent citizens of Mono county. Herewith we present Osborne and Cleveland, of the Bodie Free Press. Our artist's apology for their rueful countenances is that the moment he flashed his pencil, was identical with the return of the subjects from the "Waste Dump," from which delectable heap they were watching for the advent of Barnes' Bodie venture. We trust that the future sketches will be of a cheerful nature.

Six young lady compositors in the Des Moines Leader office have struck for a raise from 20 to 25 cents per 1,000. Nobody there will take there places.

As the Bodie Typographical Union was indignant because we paid our lady compositors 50 cents—25 cents less than its rates, we commend the above for its consideration.

This has been a blustery, disagreeable day

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—We are pleased to direct attention to a new enterprise established on this Coast, which is worthy of notice, viz: The manufacture of machinery and lubricating oils from our California petroleum which has heretofore run to waste. The old established and enterprising house of A. C. Dietz & Co., Paints and Oil Dealers, San Francisco, has constructed a large and extensive oil refinery at West Berkeley, Alameda county, Cal., and is utilizing these waste oils, and giving employment to a large number of men in the refining of machinery and high fire-test burning oils.

This is the first manufactory of the kind established on this Coast, and is well worthy of the patronage of the California Public, and we trust that the undertaking will receive such encouragement as will stimulate other similar enterprises and the utilization of other products at home, instead of shipping them abroad and then purchasing the manufactured article at such extravagant rates as are sapping the very life blood from our people. Dietz & Co. state that the machinery oils they are producing are specially adapted for our farmers for lubricating reapers, mowers, and thrashing machines. They claim that one gallon of their heavy body oil will last as long as as one and a third gallon of either lard or castor oil, and the original cost is much less. The capacity of their refinery is one hundred barrels per day, their largest trade being with the ocean steamers and railroads. They are also, selling large quantities to quartz mills, flouring mills, etc. Among other advantages claimed for mineral machine oils over animal or vegetable oils is the all important fact that the mineral oils are perfectly free from all gums or acids, whereas animal and vegetable oils are loaded with gums and acids to such an extent as to eat and destroy metals with which they come in contact. Mineral oils never gum, but keep machinery clean and cool, and preventing all friction. Sample, catalogues and prices will be forwarded on application to the proprietors, A. C. Dietz & Co., No. 9 Front street, San Francisco.

John Grizsom, after fasting 72 hours at Chicago, shows a loss of 11 pounds. He apuears to be in a healthy condition, plays games, visits theaters, and when he feels the need of stimulating he takes a walk at leisure. After 60 hours more the loss was five pounds additional—16 pounds.

GRAPE CULTURE.—We are in receipt of the "First Annual Report of the Board of State Viticultural Commissioners," a valuable work of 200 pages, with maps and illustrations.

A man in England hired a 300-ton steam yacht for six months' cruise in the Mediterream. The owners cannot get her. They have been trying to head her off at ports all over the world.

NOTICE.—As I am selling my stock of goods at cost, for the purpose of leaving Bridgeport, I would request all those indebted to me to call and settle AT ONCE, as I am greatly in need of money.

THE UNION.

BRIDGEPORT, JUNE 4, 1881.

HOUSE AND FARM.

Hickory-nut cookies which will delight the souls and stomachs of children are thus made: Two cups of sugar, half a cup of butter, six tablespoons of milk, or a little more than a third of a cup; teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half a teaspoonful of soda, cup of chopped meats, and two eggs.

When water has boiled the fire may be very much lessened, as but little heat is required to keep it boiling. There is no advantage whatever in making water boil furiously; the heat escapes in steam, without raising the heat of the water.

To fix pencil marks so they will not rub out, take well-skimmed milk and an equal part of water. Wash the marks with the liquid, with a soft flat camel-hair brush, avoiding rubbing. Place on flat board to dry.

Woodwork strongly impregnated with tungstate of soda or silicate of soda, by treatment in strong aqueous solution of these salts, will be found to be quite uninflammable.

Brush silk with a piece of cotton velvet rolled tight. For washing pour a pint of boiling water on a tablespoonfull of alcohol Let it stand till tepid then sponge with it.

Two parts tallow and one of resin, melted together and applied to the soles of new boots and shoes, as much as the leather will absorb, will double their wear.

Fox-tail grass injures domestic animals. The spikes make their eyes sore, and produce ophthalmia.

A three-board fence with a barbed wire on top makes a valuable and cheap protection.

To soften hard water, fill the boiler; put half a teaspoonful of wood ashes into a bag and leave it until warm enough to use.

Do not use pine boxes to ship butter in.

"ROOT" vs. ROUTE.—We find the following in the Washington Law Reporter:

"The phonetic style of writing has caused considerable comment in New York and Boston, but the phonetic style of pronunciation is of more interest to the taxpayers of Alleghany county, Penn,

"Some time ago a farmer's daughter, a small child, was drowned in a creek in that county, while passing over the bridge erected by the levy Court. The bridge consisted of a log. The father brought suit for damages. The Commonwealth Attorney defending the county, claimed that though it was a public thoroughfare, still the farmer knew the route, pronouncing it 'route,' to be dangerous, and hence was criminally careless in sending his child on errands along such 'route.' The presiding Judge, Kirkpatrick, in his charge to the jury, sided with the Commonwealth Attorney, and called their attention to the fact that the plaintiff in the case knew that the route, pronouncing it according to the more elect fashion—'root,' was unsafe, and advising a verdict against him.

"To the astonishment of the Judge and members of the Bar, the learned twelve rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and against the county for $800 damages.

"It was several days before the cause of their rendition contrary to the charge of the Judge was made manifest. The District Attorney, meeting one of the jurymen, asked how he could reconcile the verdict to the charge delivered by Judge Kirkpatrick.

"'Why,' responded the countryman, 'the Judge must take us for damn fools. Don't we know the road? His talking about a root, and all in the county knew it wasn't a root, but a rotten old log that broke with the gal and drowned her. He can't play any roots on us!'"
